State Program to Protect Seniors from Scams

By Amber Stearns
1/19/2011

The Indiana Secretary of State's office is implementing a new program designed to bring health care providers into the protection of seniors from investment scams and financial abuse.

Securities Commissioner Chris Naylor says the Elder Investment Fraud and Financial Exploitation Prevention Program is a new initiative being launched in 22 states including Indiana.

The goal is to educate medical providers on how to spot seniors who might be vulnerable and how to refer them to securities regulators and other professionals.

Several workshops are planned around the state reach out to the medical community.
